To the Business Men of Edmonton and vicinity

The following article No. 11 is a brief statement of the business of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company, as a manufacturing and profit paying proposition. The facts speak for themselves.

ARTICLE NUMBER ELEVEN

Article No. 12, which will appear in all of the Edmonton daily papers tomorrow, concludes this series concerning the Edmonton Portland Cement Company. Thereafter a series of reports will appear from time to time setting forth the progress of the Company.

The purpose of this article is to set forth the simplicity of the proposition with which the Edmonton Portland Cement Company has to deal. Manufacturing usually involves many complications and difficulties, with comparatively small profits as compared with the investment, the technical knowledge of the business required, and the risks involved.

PORTLAND CEMENT MANUFACTURE COMPARED WITH OTHER INDUSTRIES.

Take, for instance, the manufacture of clothing: First, the materials must be assembled and these themselves are manufactured products—this means a great investment, then a large amount of skilled labor must be employed; then a great selling force must be maintained to dispose of the product against keen and well organized competition; and finally the bills must be collected on an average of six months from the time the sales are made, eight or nine months from the time the goods are manufactured, and a year or more after the investment is made in the raw materials. In an ultimate output of $100,000, at least $85,000 will have been previously invested in raw materials, labor, cost of selling, and over-head expense, including plant depreciation. No one but an experienced manufacturer realizes the measure of possible grief that is contained in this little narrative.

The processes of Portland Cement manufacture are so simple as to stand without parallel in the industrial world.

There is first the initial plant investment, which in the case of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company, will be about $630,000. All the buildings will be permanently built—of reinforced concrete construction.

PERPETUAL SUPPLY OF MATERIALS AT SCENTS PER BARREL.

There will be no investment in materials whatever except the investment included in the original organization of the company. A portion of the stock has been set apart to pay for the property, including all the materials which the Company will use in the next forty years, and including also the entire compensation of the directors for the next two years.

And the stock set apart for this purpose amounts to just 5 Cents a Barrel on the materials which have already been surveyed and nothing at all for the materials which have not yet been surveyed and which will be thrown in for good measure. In other words, the Edmonton Portland Cement Company has bought the raw materials for its operations for the next forty years, at 5 cents a barrel and paid for them in stock. The only other material used in the manufacture of Portland Cement beside the marl and clay, which have already been purchased, is Gypsum, and that costs only 1-2 cents per barrel.

NO LABOR PROBLEM INVOLVED.

The labor problem in Portland Cement Manufacture is simple, because the processes are simple; they are these:—

- 1—The Marl and Clay are each dried and ground separately.
- 2—The ground Marl and Clay are then mixed in proper proportions and burned together in the great rotary kilns.
- 3—The resulting clinker is then ground into Portland Cement.

Only 130 men will be employed at the plant of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company, and of these only five will be skilled labor:—

- The Superintendent.
- The Engineer.
- Two Burners.
- The Chemist.

All the others will be common labor.

COST OF MANUFACTURE ON-FOURTH OF SELLING PRICE.

With these explanations the table prepared by Messrs. Hassan and Klossoski, showing the cost per barrel of manufacturing Portland Cement will be more readily understood. It is as follows:—

Coal at $2.50 per ton, 130 lbs. per bbl.	$0.16
Coal for drying clay	.01
Power at 3-4c per h.p. hour	.17
Labor, 130 men at $372 per day	.31
Gypsum	.01 1/2
Office and sales, $60 per day	.05
Insurance and taxes	.01 1/2
Small sundries and repairs	.02
Depreciation, not included in above	.03
	.78

It will be seen that the total cash investment by the Edmonton Portland Cement Company in the manufacture of a barrel of Cement is 78 cents.

NO SELLING FORCE REQUIRED.

No selling force will be required. The market is already right here and the demand for Portland Cement in the Edmonton district alone is 100,000 barrels per year,—more than the capacity of the proposed new mill. The City of Edmonton needs 25,000 barrels of Portland Cement right today. A great deal of public work is waiting on it and there is not a bag to be had in this city. In the city of Calgary, which has two cement plants, 300 men are idle because not a bag of Portland Cement can be had for work that is now under way. The Edmonton Portland Cement Company can sell its entire output at its mill door and at the market price, without the employment of a single selling agent.

The market price of Portland Cement in the Edmonton district is fixed by the cost of manufacture at eastern mills plus freight rates to this market. The present price is about $3.12 per barrel and it will never be less for the reason that the most of manufacture at other mills will increase with the growing difficulties in finding materials for Cement manufacture. No appreciable credit is involved in selling Portland Cement. It is sold by the mills only to large dealers and construction companies and strictly on sixty days.

LOW COST OF PRODUCTION AND QUICK AND SURE RETURNS.

Now to put the foregoing facts together: The Edmonton Portland Cement Company can produce a hundred thousand barrels of Portland Cement upon an investment of $78,000, and sell its product immediately for $305,000, less a freight charge of $25,000. And if it should, by any possibility, need money for the operation of its business, it can warehouse its product and borrow $1.00 a barrel on the warehouse receipts. That is to say, the collateral value of its product will always be more than the cost of manufacture. But it will not be necessary for the Edmonton Portland Cement Company to borrow money for the reason that it will start business with an eight months working capital, and will be manufacturing a 60-day staple against a market which will always exceed the capacity of the mill.

A THOROUGH BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

No one likes 40 per cent. dividends any better, nor appreciates rapidly increasing values any more sincerely, than the hard-headed business man "from Missouri." But if this self-same hard-headed business man will just take time to analyze the facts of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company, he will soon convince himself that if he does not become a stockholder in the Company, he will miss more than the Company does.

Griffith company, by whom he was employed when he met with an accident during his work, which resulted in the loss of his right arm.

The applicant attaches a notice machine in the packing plant of the J. V. Griffith company, South Edmonton. On August 21, 1909, while he was engaged in operating the machine, his right hand and arm were caught in the machine, the cause of which, it is said, he is a defective lever and the accident occurred in the room in which the applicant was working. The applicant was injured. It was necessary to amputate it below the elbow. Since August 21, the applicant claims to have been totally disabled. After he was injured the J. V. Griffith company sent him to the Albert Hotel and paid him $10.00 a week up to February 1st, 1911, since when he has been living on his own. The applicant claims $10.00 per week compensation from February 1st to the date of judgment and a like sum per week for future compensation. C. C. McLean is solicitor for the applicant and J. V. Griffith is solicitor for the J. V. Griffith company. The case will be heard by the Hon. Judge Noyl in the District Court of the District of Alberta.

LAW SUIT OVER PIGS.
Disputed ownership of two black pigs with white spots on them has been carried from the District court to the Superior Court of Alberta in the case of Brox vs. Leebick, which was decided on May 2nd by His Honor Judge Noyl, and from whose decision appeal has been taken by the plaintiff for the plaintiff. The plaintiff, two Brox, and the defendant, Herman Leebick, are both farmers of Spruce Grove. Leebick's pigs were let run at large and two porkers found on Brox's place by the latter of Stone Plains, were claimed by Leebick as belonging to the defendant. The dispute over the ownership of the pigs led to a law suit, and at the trial of the case by His Honor Judge Noyl, nearly a score of witnesses from the Spruce Grove district were examined with regard to their knowledge of habits and habits of the pigs of their neighbors. Judgment was reserved and handed down on May 2nd in favor of the defendant.

Appeal is taken on the ground that the defendant in his statement of claim did not assert the ownership of the pigs, and that the learned judge was biased against the plaintiff in having expressed himself at the opening of the court and before any evidence was taken, that action should be taken against the defendant.

A "THREE SPECIALIST."

Camorri, Describes His Occupation as That of Spectator in the Case of Fugue Boys and in Breakdown Into Buildings.
Vancouver, May 15.—The Italian press was attacked by Enrico Alfano, after an afternoon's performance, the alleged leader of the Camorri, when the murder trial was continued today. Alfano asserted that the newspapers had misrepresented him in the reports of the court proceedings, making statements that led to imply a feeling of hostility toward him on the part of the jurors. He declared the press had said that he was the leader of the Camorri.

Tommaso de Amorelli was called for interrogation. This man was denounced during with Gerardo Amodeo as the murderer of Genaro Camorri, and the latter's wife by Giacomo Amodeo, who it is alleged, conspired with the priest, Ciro Vitali, to induce three men in the crime in order to save Enrico and others, asserted to be the real assassin. De Amorelli frankly confessed to having been in partnership with Camorri, and admitted that he had engaged in a conspiracy with Camorri, and Camorri, moreover, I am quite a specialist, says a thin specialist in false keys and breaking in. He never committed a crime of blood, saying a feeling of repugnance for such deeds.

The Portuguese republic was not a surprise. It was a political plot expected for a long time past. The new national flag already made more progress in a few months than the old regime could have accomplished in a century. Among the responsibilities of such affecting the separation of church and state, the civil status, obligatory military education, the suppression of the religious orders and the secularization of education. It is well recognized that the monarchy aggressively compromised the country's future. The republic is endeavoring to reconstitute them by scrupulous and intelligent management. The interest on the external debt will be paid promptly. There is no intention to have recourse to frequent loans to emerge temporarily from difficulties.

Telegraphs Will Increase.

Toronto, May 15.—The telegraphers in the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway have applied to Manager Board of the Dominion Telegraph Company for an increase of about ten per cent in the commissions paid to them for transmission of the express company's messages.

Murder and Suicide.

London, Oct. 15.—Nathaniel Bell, aged 45, shot and fatally wounded himself and wife at her home, 212 King street, at 8 o'clock this morning because his wife refused to leave him and live with him.

Winnipeg Fire Loss.

Winnipeg, May 15.—The total loss in the Central Garage fire is now estimated at $225,000 and the cause is smoking. A searching investigation will be held in view of the criminal folly of smoking in presence of large quantities of gasoline.

GOOD PRESENTATION OF FAUST.

A most successful and attractive presentation of "Faust" produced at the Empire last night by John Griffith and his company. The play was a new one for the theatre and there were not a few among those present who found it a welcome departure from the regular order. Mr. Griffith was quite successful as Mephistopheles and in the heavier parts were well in the dramatic role with its magnificent soliloquies. The scenes were well managed and the scene to Valpurga Glen of the Broken was on the whole quite effective.

Mr. Griffith will be seen tonight in "Othello" tomorrow night in "Faust" while on Saturday afternoon "Faust" will be repeated in a "Max" film. Owing to a misunderstanding with reference to prices, some paid $1.00 instead of a dollar. The difference was refunded after the performance.

Sergeant Tucker told of the condition of Fisk's shack when he was arrested. The case is not proving very interesting, being simply a repetition of the first trial.

The convention will take up the matter of the establishment of a home for the indigent poor of the order. The scheme is to take each of the members $25 cents per year for the first year at least. CALGARY PEOPLE TALK CANDIDATES

Politicians Rather Expect Election Early This Autumn—But Many of the Candidates—Prominent Conservatives—Hedge So, But Fear That He Will Not Run.

Calgary, May 18.—The report that an election is not improbable in the late fall is causing some added interest to political candidates in this riding and both of the old parties are either making plans or are discussing the idea of making plans.

The Conservatives are much more active in this matter than the Liberals for some time they have been under the impression that an election was coming on at an early date and have had on organizer in the field for many months. The Conservatives at one time believed that there might be an election in June. Now they believe that parliament will be held over until the results of the census will be in, that then there will be a federal election some time in September or early in October, and a petition will be brought on in November.

The election will then be upon the one issue of federalism. It does not seem as though the Liberals are at all anxious to get away from a program of that kind, though they preferred to have the country make a trial of respectability before taking a vote upon it.

Mr. McCarthy Will Not Run. The question of candidates is again getting the attention of the Conservatives as they are making an announcement before the late election but pressure was brought to bear upon him and he reconsidered his position. The same pressure will not be brought to bear upon him again.

Without McCarthy the Conservatives are somewhat at sea for a candidate. The names of J. T. Macdonald, William Ferguson, and Rufus Pope, are being mentioned at the present time, are mentioned.

The Liberals have no more decided plans about a candidate than the Conservatives, provided that Mr. McCarthy decided to run. They believe that with a good candidate they can defeat Mr. McCarthy. They realize that the task of winning without Mr. McCarthy is an arduous one, when the report with him. The names of Col. William J. A. Smith, Stanley J. Jones, Mr. McLaughlin and others are mentioned as probable candidates.

Both parties seem to be of the opinion that the distribution that Calgary city will have next week.

A HARDENED WOMAN.

Convicted Murderer of Her Husband Expresses Concern as to Her Fate.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 18.—While the women of Canada are generally considered to be gentle creatures, an excellent mother, contented with death for the murder of her husband, the prisoner maintains the same attitude of indifference to the crime which characterized her throughout the trial.

In disapproving Father Bruno, an Italian priest, who has been imprisoned for some time, she has been sentenced, has ceased his visits and has intimated that she does not want to see any priest.

"What is the good of repentance? What is done cannot be undone. What I have done I have done and when I am imprisoned to expose repentance for the first time, I am, however, affect concern at her impending fate, and for the first three days after the sentence was pronounced, she would not to her cell, crying, pleading and asking to be released if she would not be freed, though she said the priest she would rather die than remain in prison."

Her time is spent in sewing and a little writing. She writes from the penning with her children, and constantly asks for them. A book which the priest left her has remained unopened.
